A group of 20 students and teachers visited the Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport, Singapore (CILTS), and had a closer look at the logistics and transportation field.

With the detailed presentation and sharing sessions conducted by Mr. Edward Lau & Mr. Koh Teow Ngan, students and teachers had gain an understanding of the current logistics system in Singapore and the possible challenges ahead in the global logistic system.

Students also had the opportunity to realize what kind of personal characters, such as working with people, personal integrity, and academic prerequisites that are necessary for this career.

Students now appreciate the importance of logistics in their daily lives and they are impressed by the high efficiency of global logistics system that has the potential to making the world a better place.
